INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS

Applying for a job with Advance

We aim to ensure that every applicant is treated fairly, which means that we are not able to consider personal knowledge about you. The information you provide in your application form is the only information we will use in deciding whether or not you will be shortlisted for the selection process. Your application form is therefore very important and the following advice is designed to help you complete it as effectively as possible.

The person specification is the list of criteria or requirements regarded as necessary for the post. To be considered for an interview you have to fulfil each point of the person specification, demonstrating your abilities by telling us about your experience.

Before you fill in the application form look at the person specification and decide how to relate your skills, knowledge and experience to each point. Use your past and present jobs, interests and skills. Remember that voluntary work or work at home can be as valuable as paid employment. It is important that your application relates to the job you are applying for. Give examples of the work you have been involved in, remembering to specify your own responsibilities rather than those of your team or department.

The application form should be filled in as completely and as clearly as possible so that we can consider all applicants on the same basis. Make sure you complete the form clearly. You may wish to continue your application on one or more separate sheets, which should be attached to the application form. The additional information section should not be too lengthy, use your judgement to make sure you have conveyed how you have the skills and experience to do this job.

Please give as your referees your current and most recent employers where possible. Send your form to Advance on time and keep a copy.

Short-listing

After the closing date, the application forms are read very carefully to see how each person's skills and experience relate to the skills and experience in the person specification. Applicants who meet these requirements are shortlisted for interview. Only information contained in the application will be considered in making the decision to shortlist.

Interviews

The interview panel is normally made up of two people who ask each candidate questions covering the relevant criteria, to allow you to expand on your application and show how you meet the essential requirements of the post. You may be asked to complete a task/presentation either at or before the interview. You will have the opportunity to ask questions about the job and about working at Advance at the end of the questions.

Panel members keep a record of their assessment of each applicant so that the reasons for their decision are clear and consistent.
